

LEADERSHIP AND PRODUCTIVITY SPEAKER

Let's shift your team's collective productivity

RISING ABOVE CHAOS

The essential keynote to lead your team out of the dayto-day chaos and into a journey of collective productivity.

Business teams are getting distracted and detoured as they face the same or similar issues day in, day out. Exhausted and frustrated teams, burdened with multiple initiatives to implement, struggle to get traction with only a few engaged individuals pulling the weight.

With his extensive Asia Pacific Operational Excellence experience in the fast-paced manufacturing sector, Ishan Galapathy has unique insights on how to deliver exceptional results, year-on-year.

From this high-energy, inspirational and compelling session you and your team will:

- Understand the common pitfalls of why businesses often don't get the best from their teams.
- Explore why teams often make a start on projects & initiatives, yet most are not completed effectively, if at all.
- Learn the fundamental structures, processes and practices of effective communication to keep your team focused on top of the daily noise.

"Highly recommend as a speaker."

Ruth Hogan, Chief Editor, Inside FMCG

ABOUT ISHAN

Ishan has a wealth of knowledge in the field of Organisational Productivity, working across six countries, over two decades, for multi-nationals such as Kellogg's and Arnotts. He uses this diverse cultural experience to connect his message effectively to his audiences.

In his last corporate role, Ishan was part of the global team that developed Kellogg's global Manufacturing Excellence program. He draws from this experience to share insights on how any team, business or organisation can commence a real journey to excellence.

As a published author, an award-winning Toastmasters speaker and a Six Sigma black-belt with Asia Pacific experience, Ishan is a true industry expert in the field of Organisational Productivity. From this unique position not only does Ishan inspires people to implement change effectively, but also provide them with actionable tips that can make an immediate difference to their teams.

"Ishan can communicate intricacies in simple and pragmatic ways."

Nick Foster, General Manager, Octomedia
